Volume 248

Greetings Church Family,

Welcome to this cold yet beautiful late fall, where we prepare ourselves for a winter of uncertainty, unmoored from our regular holiday traditions. We usually use the word grief to describe feelings of loss surrounding a human death, but grief is also an appropriate word to use to describe the loss we feel when the traditions and gatherings we would normally have are “lost” to us for now. An important part of dealing with our grief is naming that we are experiencing a loss, rather than just trying to be “strong” and ignore a feeling, but to accept that it’s impacting us more than we would want to admit.

Although we do not have our regular events and traditions, we still have continued opportunities to serve, worship and help this year. The youth are still having a small local-only lock-in together this month, which they are so grateful for. Our executive team is continuing to work on budget, slate of officers, and on leadership that allows you, the congregation, to have a voice. The December congregational meeting will take place in some capacity, and in a way that allows every member of the congregation to have a vote, regardless of if they are in-person or not.

I want to thank everyone again for your gifts, cards, and love in appreciation of the work that I do. It means the world to know that you see and appreciate the outpourings of my heart.

Love,
your Pastor Zane Ridings

Youth Activities

Five youth boys picked apples at a local orchard, then went to the West's and pressed it into cider. The new press plate was lovingly made by Mark Phillips. The cows got a treat from the pulp of the apples, and the boys had a great time with good conversations!

YOUTH SCHEDULE

Greetings parents!

I hope the kids enjoyed the cider day as much as the Wests and myself and thanks for coming.

Here’s the meeting/event plans and scripture for November. We’ll be reading the book of Ruth and engaging in this rich and vibrant story together. The group event we would like to have in November is a lock in on the 13th of November. This will consist of only the Lebanon group. We would like to confirm and large enough group of participants and would appreciate a confirmation from you as to whether your child will be coming by Nov. 6th.

- Nov. 4th 6-8 meeting at the church. Clam chowder and grill cheese sandwiches and dessert provided. (Chowder provided by Grace Johnson).
Scripture: Ruth Chapter 1
- Nov. 11th 3-4 Zoom meeting,
Scripture: Ruth Chapter 2
- Nov 13th Lock In (if held) 7pm – 9am – late night breakfast provided,
Scripture: Ruth Chapter 3
- Nov. 18th 4-6:30 – Soup Kitchen service Day followed by short fellowship and dessert.
Scripture: Ruth Chapter 4
- Nov. 24th no meeting, get ready for Thanksgiving everyone and have a good holiday.
Will resume Dec. 2nd.

Looking forward to the upcoming month.

In Christ,
Zane
